SUMMARY OF PUBLIC TELEVISION ACT OF 1967

In general, the Public Television Act of 1967 has three purposes: (1) to extend the program of grants for construction of non-commercial educational television broadcasting facilities and authorize a program of grants for construction of non-commercial educational radio broadcasting facilities, (2) to establish and finance a nonprofit corporation to assist program operations in non-commercial educational television and radio, and (3) to authorize a study of instructional television and its relationship to educational television.

CONSTRUCTION OF FACILITIES

(Title I)

Title IV, Part III of the Communications Act of 1934 (47 U.S.C. 391-397) would be amended by title I of the bill--

1. To extend its provisions through fiscal year 1972, with $10,500,000 authorized for fiscal year 1968 and such sums as may be necessary authorized for the next four fiscal years.

2. To replace the $1,000,000 per State limit with a State limit annually of 12-½ percent of the total appropriation for grants in that fiscal year.

3. To authorize grants for construction of non-commercial educational radio as well as television facilities.

4. To increase the maximum allowable Federal share in project costs from 50 percent to 75 percent and to eliminate the additional 25 percent credit for the cost of broadcasting facilities owned by the applicant before the date of filing his application.

5. To extend the territorial coverage to the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

6. To extend the scope of eligible project costs to include planning of the acquisition and installation of transmission apparatus as well as the costs of actual acquisition and installation itself.

ESTABLISHMENT OF NONPROFIT EDUCATIONAL BROADCASTING CORPORATION

(Title II)

1. Title II of the Public Television Act of 1967 amends part III of title IV of the Communications Act of 1934 to authorize the establishment of a non-profit private corporation (the Corporation for Public Television).

2. The Corporation would have a Board of Directors of 15 members appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. The members must be citizens of the United States selected from fields such as education, cultural and civic affairs, or the arts, including radio and television; and must be representative of various regions of the country, professions, and occupations, and kinds of experience and talent, appropriate to the Corporation's functions and responsibilities. The members of the Board would serve six-year staggered terms. Each year (except the first year) one of the members would be elected by the Board to serve as Chairman and one or more would be elected to serve as vice chairmen.

3. In addition to the Board of Directors, the Corporation would have a president and other necessary officers; and no political test or qualification could be used in selecting, promoting, or taking other personnel actions with respect to the Corporation's officers, employees, or agents.

4. The Corporation would be non-profit and it would have no power to engage in any political activity.

5. The purposes of the Corporation would, among others, include:

(a) Establishment and development of a system of inter-communication for distribution of public and instructional programs among non-commercial educational television and radio stations;

(b) Establishment and development of a system of non-commercial educational television and radio stations in the United States.

6. In carrying out the above purposes, the Corporation would have the usual powers conferred on District of Columbia non-profit corporations and could--

(a) Accept grants and enter into contracts with other agencies and institutions;

(b) Contract for production or procurement of educational television and radio programs for distribution to educational television and radio stations;

(c) Make payments to non-commercial educational television and radio stations for programming and other operating costs;

(d) Establish and maintain a library and archives for non-commercial educational television and radio programs;

(e) Publicize and disseminate information on educational television and radio;

(f) Support interconnection facilities for distributing and transmitting instructional and public television or radio programs;

(g) Encourage the creation of new non-commercial educational television or radio stations.

(7) The Corporation could not own or operate any television or radio broadcast stations, system, or network or interconnection or program production facility; and it and its contractors and grantees would be free from Federal direction, supervision or control.

(8) Nothing in the Communications Act of 1934 could be construed to prohibit U.S. communications common carriers from rendering free or reduced rate interconnection services to Corporation grantees or contractors and local noncommercial educational television and radio stations, in accordance with F.C.C. rules and regulations.

(9) Annual reports of its operations and on its condition would be made to Congress by the Corporation.

(10) For fiscal year 1968, $9,000,000 would be authorized to be appropriated and for fiscal year 1969, such sums as may be necessary, to assist the Corporation in carrying out its activities. These appropriations would remain available until expended.

(Title III)

Title III of the Public Television Act of 1967 authorizes the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to conduct or contract for a study of instructional television and its relationship to educational television and its advantages and disadvantages in comparison with other educational media. This report shall be submitted to the Congress on or before January 1, 1969. An appropriation of such sums as may be necessary (but not exceeding $500,000) is authorized for this purpose.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE

FACT SHEET: Educational Television

Background and Need

The concept of educational television and educational radio broadcasting has not met the promise forecast for it at the beginning of the television age. ETV has been chronically under financed; personnel shortages exist in both educational TV and educational radio; UHF-TV channels have developed rather slowly in an industry generally characterized by existing changes and rapid growth; and, finally, the function and quality of educational television itself and the range of the areas it covers vary widely from State to State.

The legislation authorizing support for Educational Television Broadcasting Facilities (Public Law 87-447) amended Title III of the Communications Act of 1934. This amendment provided grants for facilities and was designed to enable educational television to reach a broad range of people within each station's service area. With the assistance provided by the existing $32 million authorization, a total of 165 to 185 stations will be in operation or completing construction when the present term of the Act expires on June 30, 1967.

To allow minimum service of one ETV signal in all parts of the United States and two ETV signals in 40 major population centers, the Federal Communications Commission has reserved 632 channels for educational use. In authorizing the original legislation, Congress, in its Conference Report on Educational Television, called for "and adequate television system to serve the needs of all the people in the United States." To fulfill this task, the original legislation must be increased and additional incentives for continued growth and training of personnel should be enacted. In addition, some stimulus for program innovation is necessary to improve the whole concept of educational television.

In his State of the Union Message, President Johnson declared that educational television should be developed as a "vital national resource". The recently issued Carnegie Commission Report, Public Television. A Program for Action, recommended "new legislation to enable the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare to provide adequate facilities for stations now in existence, to assist in increasing the number of stations to achieve nationwide coverage, to help support the basic operations of all stations, and to enlarge the support of instructional television programming."

By December 31, 1966, a total of 124 public Educational Television Stations were operating in the United States, a sharp increase since 1956 when, ten years before, 21 stations were in operation. The Carnegie Commission Report said that the past decade has seen a system of educational television come into being that now includes nearly two-thirds of the population, a national program service, patches of interconnection, and a corps of dedicated men and women. The new legislation will build on this foundation.

Proposal

The Public Television Act of 1967 will amend the Communications Act of 1934 in several ways. Title I of the legislation will, first, extend and improve provisions for grants to construct educational television broadcasting facilities. Second, the legislation will add a new category for funding: noncommercial radio broadcasting facilities. Title I also authorizes an appropriation of $10.5 million for fiscal 1968 and such sums as may be necessary for the next four years to extend the existing grant program for construction of ETV facilities and to provide funds for noncommercial radio broadcasting facilities.

Under the proposed amendments, applicants must clear their proposals with State Educational Television or Radio agencies, if an agency exists in the applicant's state. The Federal share of grants shall not exceed 75 percent and no more than 15 percent of any grant funded may be used to acquire and install micro-wave equipment, boosters, translators, and repeaters which are used to connect two or more broadcasting stations.

Title II authorizes the establishment of a non-profit corporation to help develop public radio and television broadcasting and to protect public radio and broadcasting from extraneous interference and control. This non-profit corporation would be known as the Corporation for Public Television. The Board of Directors will consist of 15 members appointed by the President with the approval of the Senate.

The Corporation would have a variety of duties prescribed by the legislation based on the assumption that it is in the public interest to encourage the growth and development of non-commercial educational radio and television broadcasting.

Among other duties, the Corporation shall submit an annual report on its activities to the President for transmittal to Congress on or before December 30 each year on its activities.

Title III of the legislation would authorize $500,000 for a comprehensive study on the whole range of instructional television broadcasting, including its relationship to educational television. The Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare could conduct the study directly or he could contract for this study.

DIVISION OF EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

February 27, 1967

Hon. Spessard Holland
U. S. Senate
Washington, D. C.

Dear Senator Holland:

The Carnegie Commission report on "Public Television" has attracted nationwide attention. Many of its findings can be applied to radio and its recommendations must be paralleled for radio.

Senator Magnuson will soon introduce legislation renewing the ETV Facilities Act, if he has not already done so. This Act presumably has administration backing. Radio should be a part of this legislation. Needless to remark, saturation of radio, its immediacy, its intimacy, flexibility, and its appeal to the imagination, especially in such areas as music, drama, literature, public affairs, and languages, make it an obvious means of realization of many of the goals being set in public education. Its relatively less costly nature, both in equipment and personnel makes it a natural medium. Its universality makes it doubly useful. The large number of educational-non-commercial radio stations now in existence, and their continued interest in the field offer a ready-made resource which needs to be tapped. Surely such a medium must be fairly considered and intelligently utilized in the overall plan for public information and education.

As a long time radio broadcaster, currently engaged in educational radio, may I respectfully request your efforts in behalf of radio. These two great media should work together in the task ahead. I urge you to contact the Washington headquarters of National Educational Radio, 1346 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C., 20036. Phone 667-6000. Executive Director Jerrold Sandler will be most happy to provide details for you. Thank you for your consideration and efforts.

Sincerely,

William M. Brady

REPRESENTATIVE LLOYD MEEDS (D-Wash.) Talked to his Administrative Assistant, Al Swift. In fact talked a long time with him. In fact, we went over to a bar and had a couple. Al is an old Washington (state) radio broadcaster. In between a lot of "What's old so and so doing now?" I got the whole bit. He was fascinated by the multiplexing possibilities. Usual assurance of ¾ support, etc. etc. But I think this guy at least is sold and certainly understood that we were talking radio, not TV.

REPRESENTATIVE JULIA BUTLER HANSEN (D-Wash.) Dead loss here. Julia was in a committee meeting. Talked to her Executive Assistant, Roy Carlson. Knew him when he was head of the state highway patrol. Fundamentally he is still a cop--and not a terribly bright one either. Never got through to him what the hell I was talking about. Much chit_chat about old buddies in WSU School of Police Science. Tried to switch talk to radio, reminding him to weekly program we used to do in cooperation with highway patrol. Drew blank. His kids enjoy going to school in D. C. They are well.

REPRESENTATIVE TOM FOLEY (D-Wash.) Lots of house here. The representative is a classical music fan and cannot get classical music in Spokane. Hell bent to have KWSC install satellite (FM) in Spokane. Was aware of general provisions of existing ETV Bill. Was--surprise--aware of NER Network from having listened to KWSC. Offered to testify before Senate committee hearing to urge inclusion of radio in new Facilities Act. Told a moderately funny story about Toscanini and a symphony broadcast on NBC. I suggested Facilities Act might help Eastern Washington State College (an NER member) and Spokane Community College expand radio activities for Spokane. "Hell with those jerks," he said, "Iwant KWSC to get an FM satellite in Spokane." Obviously a very superior type representative.

REPRESENTATIVE FLOYD HICKS (D-Wash.) Talked briefly with him, more extensively with his Executive Assistant whose name I forgot to note down. They were vaguely aware of Educational Radio because of Ken Kager's operation. I gave the pitch. They expressed interest. O.K. but I felt it was a sort of routine bit.

REPRESENTATIVE CATHERINE MAY (R-Wash.) Catherine in state selling Lincoln and Republicanism. Long--90 minute--bit with her Executive Assistant, John Knieval. John is an old pal and one of my former students. Also, old commercial radio man. Catherine is old commercial radio broadcaster. Talked about Catherine's weekly show we are broadcasting. Talked about nut who has just bought local commercial station in Pullman and is hell bent to CATHERINE MAY (cont.) get KWSC off the air as offering unfair competition. Much apologies from John because of soft answer. Answer says--in effect--your problems are between you and the State University. "Wanted to tell him to go to hell--said John--but you can't do it in our position." John says Catherine has many close acquaintances on Commerce Committee and on Subcommittee. "Let us know soonest the number of the bill, whether what you want is still in it, and if it isn't what you want in," says John. "I guarantee that Mrs. May will get to the key committee members with the message." Left him the bundle. I think we have a friend in court here. Met all members of the staff. Drank a cup of coffee. Ate a Valentine's Day chocolate provided by one staff member. Got called in as expert consultant on new tape recorder the office is purchasing so that Mrs. May can do weekly program from her office instead of having to shag over to Radio-TV.

REPRESENTATIVE BROCK ADAMS (D-Wash.) Member House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee. Freshman representative. Brock out of town selling Lincoln. Talked to Henry Seidel, his Administrative Assistant. Talked with Terry Bracy, his press man. Gave them the pitch. Got sidetracked into setting up half-hour radio discussion program, via telephone tape, with Representative Adams for KWSC. Silly damn thing, but needed something to make this crew aware of educational RADIO, the existance of which they were previously unaware. Lengthy session, but I hope productive.

SENATOR WARREN G. MAGNUSON (D-Wash.) Long, long session with Governor's press man, Carl Downing--and old buddy for 20 years. Lunch with Carl and Sandler. Sandler made pitch. Hard sell. Carl gave Jerry hard pitch on KWSC. Advised us to build lots of pressure from grass roots on all committee members. Arranged to have me meet briefly with Senator on Wednesday when he returns to town. Downing full of hot ideas on how to raise money for NER. Suggested tapping AAAS for dough. Suggested tapping National PTA. Suggested forming national citizens committee. Agreed to be active member of such committee if formed and to involve Senator Magnuson. We started to leave, he ordered more coffee and made more suggestions. Old Carl gave impression of being very interested and involved. He is an old pro at this--so everything must be discounted 50%. Even so, we felt this one was pretty productive.

SENATOR FRANK MOSS (D-Utah) Committee member. Talked to research man, Jerry Jenson, and the press man--who is old KOL news director. Sandler made pitch. Brethern involved asked many informed questions. Jenson entrigued by multiplex possibilities. They wanted to know did we want separate bill or what. We promised to keep them fully informed.

SENATOR E. L. BARTLETT (D-Alaska) Talked briefly with Jack Cornman, who was writing a speech on Alaskan TV for the Senator. Much pressure on speech. Agreed to come back tomorrow.

REPRESENTATIVE THOMAS M. PELLY (R-Wash.) Congressman out selling Lincoln. Executive Assistant home sick. Talked to lower echelon type. Asked name twice. Mumbler. Didn't ask third time. Polite attention. Comprehension doubtful. Agreed to communicate with Representative.

NICK ZAPPEL Talked to Nick Zappel. His office across corredor from Magnuson's. Handy. He says...I know you guys are on the Hill. People have been calling me all morning. I say: How are we doing? He says: Like I told Herman and Sandler, you've got a long, Hard row to climb. I say: We know it. He says: I will say this, you're going about it the right way. We chat on sundry matters for about five minutes. As we part (he has luncheon date) he slaps me on the back and says: You guys are causing me nothing but trouble, but, Burt, I wish you lots of luck, and keep at it.

Went back to Downing's office. Downing says: Honest to Christ, Burt, is Sandler's operation as hard up financially as he indicated yesterday. I gave him a few, broad details. He made some notes and said: Well, you guys obviously have got to have money, and you obviously have to push out on your own because the ETV guys aren't ever going to do anything.

I asked him about the SENATE telephone directory. He told his girl to get me one. She went down to the Senator's office. They were out. She sent for one. It had to be sent down by page. I told Cindy about it. It has the names and correct spellings of all the guys we have contacted when we were unable to see the Senator himself. Cindy said she'd have somebody pick it up.

Went to Senator Cannon's office (Nevada). Everybody out to lunch.

Made tour under capitor, via two electric subways. Went to Rep. Moss (Calif.) office. Everybody out to lunch except receptionist.

Had (pardon the expression) TV business with Stanley Neustad of Cohn and Marks. Called him from House Office Building. He said I've been waiting lunch to hear from you. Joined him at Broadcasters Club for lunch. He said. I've been writing an interesting brief for WOI in a long case we've been conducting with them on early morning hours. He said: I was just in the middle of it when the Carnegie Commission report came in. He said: I rewrote the whole brief, useing the concept of PUBLIC RADIO--which I pointed out was a lot better established, historically, and a lot more important than PUBLIC TELEVISION. We won the case. I said: How well do you know Nick Zappel? He said: Maybe 8, maybe 10 years...we're fairly close. I said: Call him as a friend and a citizen of Virginia and give him the pitch on PUBLIC RADIO. He said. I will definitely. I am on a campaign on this, personally.

3:00 o'clock. Came to the office.

E. G. Burrows
February 14, 1967

1. Talked with Steve Stockmeyer, Administrative Assistant to Marion Esch (R-Mich.). Stockmeyer, U-M journalism graduate, worked at WUOM and at TV. Indicates Esch will be very interested in all developments and wants to be kept informed. Said would be glad to give whatever help necessary.

2. Spoke to John Dingell (D-Mich.). Dingell very negative about desirability of renewal of Facilities Act. Says original idea was Congress would start the ball rolling and states would take over. If states haven't taken over -- tough. Congress has more important business, such as air and water pollution (his special interest). Accused Sen. Griffin of torpedoing original ETV Act in Michigan by insisting no church schools could benefit. (MRS. CANTWELL, Administrative Assistant; GRANT SEAVERS, Legislative Assistant).

3. Saw Jim Sparling, Administrative Assistant to James Harvey (R-Mich.). Sparling implied he didn't want to think about legislation until it was actually introduced, but would be gald to help in getting testimony heard.

4. Saw Sid Hoyt, Administrative Assistant to Sam Devine (R-Ohio). Got something of same reaction as Sparling. Hoyt indicated Ohio State University had already been very vocal but wouldn't say whether they were pushing TV only or both. He seemed to react favorably to inclusion of radio, asked many intelligent questions, but kept saying it's too early to talk.

5. Lunch with Peter Holmes, Legislative Assistant, and John Crowley, Administrative Assistant, to Sen. Griffin (R-Mich.). Holmes seemed most actively interested and asked many questions. Crowley had evidently been exposed to complaints of commercial broadcasters about practices of WKAR in football, etc. Seemed worried as to how commercial operators were going to react to any legislation favoring radio/TV. Holmes, however, pursued all subjects including private corporation idea with considerable intelligence. Feel we may have made progress here, but no telling how Griffin will eventually react.

6. Talked with William Springer's (R. Ill.) legislative Assistant who said bluntly they relied for guidance in communication matters on Lewis E. Berry, attorney (minority) for House Commerce Committee.

7. Went to see Berry. He was delighted to see me, he said. He is former radio student at University of Michigan, has home in Cheboygan, knows a great deal about all aspects of commercial and educational operations. He said: 1) he thought ETV Act ought to be kept separate from any public commission; 2) saw no reason why radio shouldn't be included in renewal; 3) hoped HEW was definitely writing this in; 4) would urge his people to give serious consideration to radio. We talked FCC problems with which he is very conversant, netowrking, etc. etc. The best informed man around. Already has a big file on Carnegie Report, had clipping from Post on radio, was very happy with Wingspread material, wants more, wants to talk with Sandler. PURSUE! (Democratic Counsel: Tiskman)

February 15, 1967

1. Ray M. White, Administrative Assistant to Senator Lausche (D-Ohio). Brief meeting. Take lead from Pastore and Magnuson.

2. Mace Broide, Administrative Assistant to Senator V. Hartke (D-Ind.) Ex-Commercial Broadcaster, member of Broadcast Pioneers. Knowledgable in whole field of commercial broadcasting. Interested in hearings on election practices. Wants to see additional material. Had Carnegie Report on desk, hadn't read yet.

JERROLD SANDLER - ADDENDA TO BOARD NOTES

February 13, 1967

1) Accompanied Burke to see:

a. John Beaty, Senator Pearson's press secretary (R-Kansas)
b. Senator Carlson (R-Kansas)
c. Charles Grady, education assistant to Senator Monroney (D-Okla.)

Burke reported on Pearson and Carlson OK. In the Grady meeting I would add he was Superintendent of Schools in Oklahoma City before joining Monroney's staff, and seemed very familiar with the ETV situation, not as familiar with the educational radio background. He asked many intelligent questions, particularly in regard to Instructional broadcasting. Don't expect any agressive action from this source, but would expect a passive OK from Monroney when the time comes.

February 14, 1967

1) Accompanied Curry to see Representative Kleppe. Not knowledgeable about educational radio. Had some familiarity with commercial radio. Promised to study appropriate legislation when it becomes available and will look for our report.

2) Accompanied Harrison for lunch meeting with Carl Downing, Magnuson's press man. I think we definitely can count on him as a friend in court in Magnuson's office. He seemed surprised that there were other radio stations in the United States that were doing as good a job as KWSC. Thus, our report becomes very important to people like this. This is one of the people I will definitely try to keep contact with in the coming weeks and months. He has been with Maggie for 11 years and is totally familiar with the personalities and politics involved on the Senate side. I think he can be very helpful to us.

3) Accompanied Harrison to Senator Moss's office where we saw him legislative research man and his press assistant. As in a number of other cases, they became quite interested and intrigued once they began to understand what this was all about and definitely left the door open for any legislative initiatives we might want to discuss with them in the future.

February 15, 1967

1) Accompanied Burrows to Senator Hart's office where we saw Miss Ferris, legislative assistant. Very intelligent, sharp woman, who took careful notes and asked pertinent questions, listened intently, and seemed to comprehend the situation as we explained it to her. It's worth noting that towards the end of our meeting she said that the key man around here (meaning the Senate) was Nick Zappel, and indicated that they leaned rather heavily on him for guidance in matters of this kind.

2) Accompanied Harrison to see Jack Kornman of Senator Bartlett's staff. Showed considerable interest for the potential of educational radio in Alaska. Suggested that we ought to get our affiliate KUAC to contact the Senator suggesting what they are doing and what they might be doing, if funds were available, and raising a number of pertinent points which Bartlett might then translate into comments or questions for the record during the hearings. Will follow up.

3) Accompanied Burrows to lunch with Dean Coston, Deputy Under-secretary, HEW, and former WUOM man. We briefed him on the Board's presence and activities on the Hill. He insisted that radio is definitely written into the administration bill which will still undergo some finalization. The bill will probably be presented as an omnibus package for five years, combining ETV Facilities Act extension with Carnegie recommendations for a public corporation. My comments which now follow come from this lunch meeting, plus several more informal chats with Coston in the last few days.

a. He promised to get me a copy of the bill as soon as it is available in approved form. This could be anywhere from momentarily to several weeks, depending primarily on the scope and changes which may take place from within not only HEW, but from the White House side, i.e., the Bureau of the Budget.
b. While there can be no garantee, he considered it unlikely that radio would be dropped from consideration at this point.
c. He indicated (and obviously all of this should be treated quite confidentially and off the record) that on the Facilities side, radio was written in for ½ million, and ETV for 10 million for the first year. No sums describing draft bill for ensuing years, but if and when pressed by Congress, HEW is ready to discuss possible five year project of up to 500 million dollars total package, including very substantial expenditures via a public corporation. I indicated my concern about earmarking separate funds for radio which would tend to set precedent for separate administration and bureaucratic practices, as well as suggesting overall low limits of possible expenditures for radio under the act. He said that we might be better protected via earmarked funds particularly since the public corporation will be ETV dominated.
d. While keeping somewhat vague on the details, he intimated that radio would be a part of the public corporation idea.
e. I asked about the likelihood of this omnibus version passing this session of Congress. He replied that they were well aware that it might run into difficulties in this form and that the primary purpose behind this was to get the public debate going behind a public corporation.

f. While Burrows met with him, he introduced us to Senator Hart, who was eating a few tables away. Brief chat with Hart. We told him that we saw Miss Ferris. Coston told us later that Hart leans heavily on Miss Ferris for legislative advice.

g. Regarding the possibility of separate radio legislation which might be introduced (see my report on Representative Ottinger below), Coston agreed that this could be very helpful to our cause by calling attention to the needs of educational radio and its very existence. He does not feel that it would hurt our cooperation with HEW or the administration as such, but that it would probably be good political strategy on our part to work this thing from as many different angles as possible.

h. My overall reading is that Dean is delighted that we are actually following through to the degree already reported and he wants me to keep him informed in our contacts, reactions, follow-up, etc. While he represents an important friend in court, it should be understood that he is responsible for pushing close to 50 bills via HEW and that his own primary legislative fights this year are in the area of air and water pollution. Therefore, we can't really count on him too heavily in an active way, but within the total legislative environment his quite sympathetic to our cause. His main negative feelings are simply that he is convinced that the dollars given by the federal government to ETV and ITV via the Facilities Act and the various educational bills over the past years have been largely wasted and unproductive. He is aware that the fault lies within HEW, the legislation itself, and the people in educational broadcasting, let alone the educational establishment. Nevertheless, this view which tends to be pessimistic and disallusioned will probably make our fight that much tougher in subtle ways, since we are seen as being a part of the same establishment. There is very little respect over there for the educational broadcasting establishment itself. Coston on a number of occassions has indicated that outside of Marquis and myself, he would as soon wash his hands of the whole matter.

i. Take it for what it's worth, but he says that from his vantage point generally on the Senate side you will tend to do your best speaking directly with legislative staff people, and on the House side with the Congressmen themselves. My own experience indicates that this doesn't always hold true, i.e., in our own four days of contacts on the Hill, there are a number of examples where staff people on the House side have taken the initiative.

j. In my final encounter this past weekend with Coston (this time along with Hilliard in a social setting), it became very apparent that there will be considerable noise from the ITV world, since the proposed bill leaves them out of general funding on the basis that there are already appropriate bills for that purpose. Instead, HEW is proposing "a study" of ITV problems under the aegis of the Rand Corporation.

4) Accompanied Burke to Senator Long's office. Saw Charles McBride, press aide. When legislation is actually before them, it is quite possible that I will want to speak with their legislative man who was not available that day.

5) Accompanied Lewis to see Bill Kitzmiller, legislative assistant for Representative Ottinger (D-N.Y.). In short, we have a potential champion who took the bull by the horns within minutes and suggested that his man introduce a radio bill to be co-sponsored by Magnuson, as a possibility on the Senate side. He told Magnuson's legislative man Broide on the phone in our presence that if Maggie could not or would not that he might go to Bobby Kennedy or somebody like that. While a number of other contacts which some of you made left a general impression of a willingness to help, this was the only active, agressive, overt offer to go this far, this fast. As mentioned above, I checked this out with Coston who agrees that this could be a good strategy for us, and that Ottinger is certainly an OK Congressman on HEW type matters. Before going too far with Ottinger, we are trying to check from a number of sources about the man's reputation within Congress and in his own territory. Generally, I can already report the following.

a. He is a liberal Democrat from Republican West Chester County, New York.
b. He is one of the guys who has been vigorously fighting the public utilities and is very anxious to be on the Power and Communications subcommittee under which our legislation would come.
c. According to his legislative man, he has introduced such bills a number of times before as an attention getting device. this could mean good PR for both the Congressman and NER, since there would be a number of remarks which he would introduce into the Congressional Record, as well as the attention the bill itself would receive.
d. I understand that he is quite wealthy in his own right, and indeed, is one of the officers of a family foundation in New York named The Ottinger Foundation. (Who knows, there might even eventually be some financial aid from that quarter, although I don't count on it yet.)

I will be contacting Kitzmiller after I return from the WRTA meeting in California.

Myron Curry

E. E. SIMMONS, President, Simmons Advertising Co, Grand Forks, North Dakota. Will write letters to Congressmen, and will contact friends to persuade to write.

MARK ANDREWS, North Dakota Eastern District Congressional Representative. 25 minute interview. Courteous, receptive, attentive. Showed preparation for interview and understanding of the legislation and its purposes.

CONGRESSMAN KLEPPE, Western District, North Dakota. 40 minute interview. Identification of Sandler and Curry and of pending ETV legislation.

SENATOR QUENTIN, Burdick, North Dakota. Saw James Meeker, assistant. two hour discussion of bill, implications, possible support by Senator Burdick.

SENATOR MCCARTHY (Minnesota) Senator was out. Secretary gave cool reception, but invited to return later Wednesday.

SENATOR ROMAN L. HRUSKA (Nebraska) Out. Secretary recommended contact with More - knowledgeable assistant, Mr. Mueting.

SENATOR PROXMIRE (Wisconsin) Out. Left message regarding legislation and renewing old acquaintance.

CONGRESSMAN ANCHER NELSON (Minnesota) Saw Mr. Donald W. Olsen, administrative assistant. 30 minute interview. Courteous hearing. Noncommittal. Accepted kit, will relay.

SENATOR HRUSKA (Nebraska, see above) 30 minute meeting. Took careful notes, offered affirmative comments, though noncommittal. Spoke with administrative assistant, Mr. James Schultz. Accepted kit, will relay.

CONGRESSMAN GLENN CUNNINGHAM (Nebraska) Spoke with Mr. James Roberts, administrative assistant. 5 minute. Very rushed, in middle of errand. Waited ¼ hour for him. Gave "NER Reporter" only. Please forward entire kit, he will welcome.

SENATOR BOURKE B. HICKENLOOPER (Iowa) Saw Mr. George Pavick, administrative assistant. Talked for 35 minutes. Called Nick Zappel regarding ETV and Radio legislation. Listened carefully, took notes and NER's address and phone number. Accepted kit. Will watch developments.

SENATOR C. P. HANSEN (R-Wyoming) Spoke with Mr. David Dominick, administrative assistant. 10 minute interview. Distant and perfunctory. Will relay kit and desire for attention for inclusion of radio on to Senator.

Jack Burke
February 13, 1967

SENATOR PEARSON (R-Kansas) Saw John Beatty, Press Secretary. Will carry the information to the Senator. Became very involved (12:30-3:00 meeting). Pointed out need for continual contact on the Hill. Follow-up letters will be very helpful, especially from University presidents and local groups. Even though he has a broadcasting background had no real knowledge of educational radio -- especially in-school. We need some facts on this phase of our activity. John can be counted on to be a friend in court. He is not agressive enough to carry the cause without a hand.

Pearson is solid conservative Republican, but not ultra-conservative. Don't think he will champion, but should support.

SENATOR CARLSON (R-Kansas) After discussing the cost of fertilizer, we spread a little. He is conservative, but very approachable and reasonable. Knows educational radio as practiced in Kansas. Good friend of University and our President. Assured us we would be heard in committee hearings. If we can't get in there, why, what the hell, come and talk to his foreign relations committee. Could be used if needed.

SENATOR MONRONEY (D-Okla.) Saw Charles Grady, educational assistant. Listened, friendly -- will take the information to the Senator. Average response.

CONGRESSMAN JOE SKUBITZ (R-Kansas) Is very unhappy with commercial broadcasting.

1. Against editorializing
2. Over commercialization
3. All rock, no talk, no minority tastes represented
4. Against clear channels
5. For longer hours for day timers

Could be very helpful because he is in favor of broadcasting. Also gave a long lecture on excessive profits in broadcasting and use of public franchise granted by government. They don't own anything except the equipment. Big interest in new social security legislation. Will introduce a bill. Should be included on programming in this area. Wants to be kept informed. Had no packet to leave with him -- send immediately

CONGRESSMAN CHESTER L. MIZE (R-Kansas) Saw assistant Freeburg first, and about ½ way through he became interested, particularly in variety of services and multiplex potential. He changed from very cold to interested. The Congressman arrived and in a repeat of the information both reacted favorably. Asked what does TV think of radio in ETV Facilities Act. Answered to his satisfaction. He listens to KSAC, has been a participant and can't really see how (at this point) anyone can be against. He is conservative (quite) but should be counted upon for support. After it's beyond committee and up for consideration, he should be contacted. Could help before, if necessary.

REPRESENTATIVE GARNER E. SHRIVER (Kansas) Talked to office staff. No real contact. Send information both types -- packet and report.

CONGRESSMAN LARRY WINN, JR. (R-Kansas) Saw Lyden Bitter. Good looking doll -- should have been great interview, became very interested, although one big problem. They consult with the Manager of our share time commercial station. He is an SOB and would bomb me, if possible. AVOID! The Broadcaster supported ETV and helped get money for Washburns, so don't write support off completely. No other contact except Research report.

CONGRESSMAN DONALD G. BROTZMAN (R-Colorado) Saw Robert Tonsing.
CONGRESSMAN JOHN JARMAN (Oklahoma) Saw Juanita Mosher

Mild interest, will take information to the Congressman, will take follow-up to turn on. Both are on the House Committee so should be done. Good experience, but no definite impression.

CONGRESSMAN ROBERT DoLE Saw Bill Kats. Reaction very good, although Dole is a frequent critic of government programs. I finally broke off the conversation. Dole out of town. Interest, no opporition. Dole is very vocal. If we could get him he would speak out on our behalf, but don't think you could get him. No educational radio in his district now, except service from KSAC.

SENATOR LONG (Louisanna) Saw Charles McBride, press aide. Seemed attentive, interested, and totally unaware of radio. Will see the Senator gets the information. Average contact.

CONGRESSMAN J. J. PICKLE (Texas) Saw Tony Profitt. Listened and responded. Said he knows something of broadcasting, since their district includes Austin. Bob Schenkkan and LBJ have interests there. Looks alright, but since it's Bob's territory, perhaps the follow-up report of ~~xxxxx~~ radio research will be enough.

SYMINGTON Saw Stan Tike, administrative Assistant. He didn't know too much nor did he want much. Felt job for legislative assistant, who wasn't in. Total meeting time about five minutes. Took the information and indicated he will pass along. (it's doubtful) Friendly brush off.

Will Lewis

FRIEDEL, SAMUEL N. (D-Md.) House Commerce Committee. Quick, polite meeting with him--not too terribly interested. Be sure and send report. Sees no reason he wouldn't support measure.

ROONEY, FRED B. (D-Pa.) (Allentown, Bethlehem region) Met with legislative team of Ray Huber and Richard Henderson. Gave 45-minute pitch. Extremely receptive. Send report. Particularly interested in any plans educational radio stations in Allentown-Easton may have for expansion. I promised we'd pull out some extracts from national report.

MURPHY, JOHN N. (D-N.Y.) Out of town until Tuesday.

OTTINGER, RICHARD (D-N.Y.-Westchester County). Legislative Assistant, Mike Kitzmiller, a fast-talking, idea man looking for flashy, news-grabbing causes for a liberal democrat on the move. Although he doesn't fully grasp the dimensions or the background of educational broadcasting, he sees educational or non-commercial radio as a suitable cause for his man. Wants Jerry to draft an Educational Radio Bill separate from the Administration bill. This will give movement a base and will generate on-the-record, indexed literature on the educational radio cause. Doublechecked by phone to Magnuson's legislative man, Brodie, a former classmate. Brodie is Maggies man--Zappel is pastore's man. Reaction from Brodie was, "Why not? Send the info over." Mike says if Maggie runs into static via Zappel--Ottinger may call on Bobby Kennedy to co-sponsor bill. Magnuson and Ottinger, according to Mike, introduce each other's legislation.

PASTORE, JOHN O. (D-R.I.) Saw James A. McKenna without appointment. McKenna is Legislative Assistant. He was reluctant to give me much time. Indicated that Senator relies on Zappel for all communication advice. Left "Care Package" which McKenna promised to read.

SCOTT, HUGH (R-Pa.) Saw Sid Bailey, Legislative Assistant, for about 15 minutes. Listened politely. Offered to let me know state of radio when bill came down. Gave Sandler's card. Left "Care Package". Seemed sympathetic.

COTTON, NORIS (R-N. Hamp.) Saw Louis Jefferson, Legislative Assistant. Extremely sympathetic. Says Cotton is buddy of Magnuson. If radio is dropped, thinks Sen. Cotton would help introduce amendment. Asked us to be sure and come back!

Will Lewis

BREWSTER, DANIEL B. (D-Md.) Saw Shepherdson Abell, Legislative Assistant. Abell educated in Boston (harvard). Familiar with educational radio. Took "Care Package". I promised to send him report.

The Honorable Harley O. Staggers, Chairman
Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee
The House of Representatives
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir;

As a member of the teaching profession and an educational broadcaster, I am much concerned about raising the general level of education of our population. I understand that in the near future there will be legislation concerning both Educational Radio and Educational Television.

Since radio has already proven the ability to reach more people at one time than any other medium, I feel that it is a natural way of raising the general level of education of our population. The possibilities seem to be limited only by the funds available. Both Educational Radio and Educational Television have had to struggle for existence in this country, whereas in some other nations, the cultural burden is carried on with government support.

The Report of the Carnegie Commission on Educational Television gives many fine suggestions for continuing support of Educational Television. However, I hope that any legislation resulting from that report will also contain support for Educational Radio because radio at times can be much more effective than television.

I trust that you will support any legislation which comes out of the Carnegie Commission's Report and that Educational Radio will be included in this legislation. I would appreciate receiving copies of any legislation concerning educational broadcasting from your office.

Yours truly,

David E. Beach
Assistant Professor of Speech

February 26, 1968

The Honorable Vance Hartke
The United States Senate
Washington, D.C. 20025

Dear Senator Hartke:

In a communication I received yesterday from the National Association of Educational Broadcasters, results of a survey on the impact of the proposed new copyright law (H.R. 2512 and S. 597) were included. I have been following the NAEB's regular advisories on the direction and progress of the copyright law revision, but never has the staggering import of the proposed revision been made so clear.

The survey covered one week of broadcasting by WBAA. During this week WBAA broadcast a total of 163 programs that would be covered by the revised copyright law. 160 of these programs would have been denied exemption by S. 597 had it been law!

WBAA is a standard AM broadcast station, and our signal covers much of Indiana; the radius of our daytime signal is in excess of 100 miles, which is one of the exemption limitations in the proposed revision.

Contrary to information that copyright amendment advocates may have given to you, program production is not becoming highly centralized. Our 1967 License Renewal Application stated accurately that 52.7% of our programs were locally produced, 27.2% were compiled from records in our music library, and only 20.1% came from outside program sources such as National Educational Radio Network.

One of our primary programming efforts is expended on in-school programs for elementary schools in Indiana. Nearly 200,000 students were enrolled in these in-school programs during the 1966-67 school year. During the year, 23 other Indiana radio stations were mailed tapes of 3,160 of these in-school programs. Most of this distribution of in-school programming would be prohibited under current restrictions imposed by S. 597.

As concrete examples, I would like to cite these two in-school series:

Patterns in Folklore, originally produced by WBAA five years ago and telling the story of American folklore to 3rd and 4th graders, contains stories and anecdotes taken from printed collections. The series also contains recorded folk music of various recording companies. WBAA rebroadcasts the series each year, and this year it is being used as an in-school feature by the NER Network. Under the proposed copyright law revision, it would be eliminated on at least three counts: 1) the tapes are more than a year old, 2) the radius of distribution is more than 100 miles, 3) the programs include copyrighted material.

Of Cabbages and Kings is a new series WBAA is currently producing. It is being used by eight Indiana stations. Fifty-five teachers in the state have ordered teacher's manuals from us for use with this series. Material used in making up this children's story series comes from 53 different books involving 24 different publishing companies. Indications are that the series will be accepted for distribution on the NER Network next fall. Under the proposed copyright law revisions, obtaining clearances would have been far too onerous a task and the program cost for a one year run would have been prohibitive. Too, there could be no distribution to other Indiana stations or to NER Network stations.

A similar statement could be made about nearly all of our in-school programs. The limitation to one year of use and to use only on WBAA would make the first cost far too great for us to afford.

Classical music composes nearly 30% of our broadcast schedule. If S. 597 becomes law, the various clearances it will be necessary for us to obtain will create an impossible situation, as such clearances would have to be obtained from artists, composers, recording companies, or rights holders for each classical selection aired.

In the past we've broadcast college courses for credit. We are currently working to continue this practice as an aid to teachers who wish to obtain advance degrees. This type of programming would be unlawful under current restrictions in S. 597. We feel that a college station's right to broadcast courses for credit to any adult students should be supported by law rather prohibited.

Our program schedule each week includes about five hours of programming provided by the NER Network, plus another four hours obtained from exchanges with other university stations and from outside agencies. A conservative estimate would be that seven hours of this total of nine hours would be prohibited by S. 597.

I believe it is evident that WBAA would be severely handicapped, as would most other educational radio stations, by the unreasonable restrictions of the proposed copyright law revisions. Estimates made by authorites who have surveyed educational radio and televisions stations and who have studied the problem carefully are that budget additions of $30,000 to $50,000 would have to be made to compensate personnel whose only duty would be to obtain proper copyright clearance. The budget amount would vary according to the amount of local production each station did. Our additional cost would approach $50,000.

In the case of WBAA, which regularly faces a close budget scrutiny, this added amount for "copyright clearance personnel" could well be the final straw. As best the added production cost would mean severely restricted production and almost completely curtailed service to other Hoosier stations.

Under the present copyright law, exemptions for non-profit performances of copyrighted non-dramatic literary and musical works have permitted educational broadcasting to offer fine cultural and educational programs to their respective areas. There has been no evidence that the existence of these exemptions has harmed authors, performers, or publishers, nor is there evidence that creativity in these cultural disciplines has been curtailed.

I believe the case for exemptions for educational broadcasters is strong. If Congress feels that the case is not sufficiently strong to grant complete exemption, I hope fervently that adequate provisions will be made so that licensing for use of all copyrighted materials may be handled by one agency, one license, and by one annual fee...which will be a reasonable one that will not stifle education and culture at one of its major access points for the general public.

If you have further questions about WBAA's production and programming, or about the ways in which S. 597 would handcuff our existing operation, please address them to me. I hope you will see fit to convey my arguments to members of the Judiciary Committee, and to the Subcommittee on Patents, Trademarks, and Copyrights.

Thank you very much for your consideration of educational broadcasting's problems under the proposed copyright law revision.

Dear Mr. DeCamp:

My understanding is that the Senate Judiciary may well report out H.R. 2512, which passed the House of Representatives April 11, 1967, instead of S. 597. What modifications the Senate might make in the House version I have no way of knowing, of course.

Should the measure be passed by the Senate and then go to conference, I will be glad to do what I can to be helpful along the lines you suggest.

Dear Sir:

It was a privilege to visit your office in Washington last Wednesday, February 15, 1967. Mr. Jim Roberts of your office staff was very courteous and I greatly appreciated his taking time to talk with me.

I came as the representative of National Educational Radio Region IV, comprising Nebraska, Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Iowa, and Minnesota. My purpose was to call your attention to the inclusion of educational radio in forthcoming legislation for extending the Educational Television Facilities Act. I understand that at present Nebraska has two educational FM stations; KCBI-FM in Omaha and KJLT-FM in North Platte. They would stand to benefit from the inclusion of educational radio in pending ETV Facilities legislation.

In mid-March you should receive data gathered from educational radio stations around the nation showing the current status of educational radio and indicating its values and needs. This information, together with material which should by this time have reached you from NER's Washington headquarters, is intended to provide legislators and the committees concerned with the ETV bills with sound grounds for incorporating educational radio with educational television in the forthcoming legislation.

It is hoped that you and your colleagues on the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee will see fit to ensure a hearing for educational radio when the ETV Facilities legislation comes before the committee. Here in the Prairie states, particularly, it is further hoped that our Representatives and Senators will champion the cause of supporting educational radio in any contemplated legislation.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Sir:

This is to express my appreciation for the courtesy and consideration given to me on Wednesday, February 15, 1967 by Mr. George Pavlik of your office. My visit was occasioned by the understanding that legislation extending the present ETV Facilities Act will shortly enter hearings in the Senate Commerce Committee, and that the legislation is expected to include educational radio. Mr. Pavlik went out of his way to find some information on the subject for me. It was very good of him to do so.

Since I serve as the representative for Region IV (Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, and Wyoming) of National Educational Radio (NER) headquartered in Washington, D. C., may I call your attention to the forthcoming results of a national survey of educational stations in the U.S.? The data, when synthesized, will provide an up-to-date picture of the current status of educational radio facilities; to date, 125 have returned detailed replies. It is hoped that when the pending ETV Facilities legislation enters hearings in the Senate Commerce Committee it will be possible for educational radio to present its case for inclusion in the extended Act. The forthcoming data should help the Committee and the legislators to make a soundly considered decision about supporting educational radio as an economic, flexible, pervasive medium easily used at the local level by local citizens.

It is my hope that you can see fit at least to assure a hearing for educational radio, and at most to lend active support to its support and further development.

Dear Sir:

This is an expression of my pleasure and appreciation in meeting you on Friday, February 10, 1967 at your Grand Forks office. I also appreciated greatly the courtesy and efficiency of Mrs. Laravee in obtaining information for me.

In your Washington office on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 15 and 16, 1967, Ken Brown and Van Olsen were extremely courteous and helpful in ferreting out information regarding a House version of the Educational Television Facilities bill (HR 4140) and indicating that the content of other versions is still unknown.

I trust that the background information about National Educational Radio will be useful to you and that it will help you to decide to support the inclusion of educational radio in any House version of the ETV Facilities Act which may be forthcoming. I'm sure that your support of such inclusion would greatly enhance the development of Educational Radio in North Dakota.

Very shortly you may expect the data resulting from the questionnaire circulated among the educational radio stations in the country. It will thoroughly document the case for including radio in the ETV Facilities Act.

I hope also that there will be further opportunities to contact you in the future, and I appreciate the efforts of your fine staff in securing information about the pending ETV-Radio legislation for me.

Dear Sir:

It was my privilege to visit your office in Washington last Wednesday, February 20, in regard to pending legislation extending the current Educational Television Facilities Act. My conversation with your assistant, Mr. David Dominick, was very pleasant. I greatly appreciate his taking time to talk with me.

As the representative for National Educational Radio (NER) Region IV, comprising Wyoming, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, and Minnesota, may I call your attention to the inclusion of educational radio in the ETV Facilities legislation? The inclusion of radio seems to be an obvious benefit to the Plains states, in particular, because of the considerable geographic distances separating individuals and population centers alike. With very modest support, educational radio could assume a far more proper and significant role in education. Radio has its own special virtues, including economy, flexibility, pervasiveness, and easy utilization. It has been too long neglected in favor of the younger, but more demanding brother, educational television.

By mid-March it is expected that you will receive data showing the results of a nationwide survey of educational radio stations. The information should prove helpful in assessing the value of including educational radio with ETV in any contemplated legislation.

If you have questions requiring more immediate answers than those in the forthcoming survey results, I am sure that the Washington office of National Educational Radio will surely respond. Meanwhile, I trust that you can give the matter your consideration, and perhaps become an active supporter of educational radio.

Dear Senator Burdick:

As a librarian--a person concerned with educational opportunity and with high standards of radio and television broadcasting as a vital part of educational opportunity--I am very much interested in the Educational Television Facilities Act.

Such legislation should make educational television available in regions which do not have it now and improve the facilities of present educational television stations.

With the inclusion of radio in this act, at comparatively little expense, opportunities for good and profitable listening will be further improved.

May I urge your favorable consideration of the Educational Television Facilities Act.

Dear Mr. Simmons:

This will acknowledge receipt of your recent letter in which you referred to Senate Bill 683 and suggested that this will further educational television and radio.

An examination of S. Bill 683, a copy enclosed for your information, indicates that it does not involve educational television or educational radio. However, you may be referring to the proposals of the Carnegie Commission on Educational Television which were contained in the report issued by that group two weeks ago. Presently, the proposals are being reduced to legislative form and should be submitted by the Administration before too long.

When hearings are scheduled, you can rest assured that the views expressed in your letter will be kept in mind.

Dear Mike:

Thank you very much for your letter. I appreciate your kind remarks.

I have done a little investigating into the bill for educational radio facilities that you are working on, and I find your situation not quite as favorable as it might have seemed. At the staff level, Senator Magnuson's office said that the Senator will introduce the educational television facilities bill drafted in the White House, and that it was very unlikely that this would include anything for educational radio.

From here on in the game is pretty hard to call, but often times in these situations the Senator who has agreed to introduce something asked in a presidential message has consulted with the White House as to terms of the legislation. This suggests that your organization should be concentrating its activities on the White House and Senator Magnuson at the moment.

I tell you all this only in an effort to be helpful. This is all probably something that the professional staff of your organization already know. It may very well be that they are now working closely with the White House.

The Honorable Quentin N. Burdick

Dear Sir:

While I was in Washington this past week, I visited your office and met with your assistant, Mr. James Meeker. My call was occasioned both by acquaintanceship with Mr. Meeker and by my responsibility as representative for Region IV (North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wyoming) of National Educational Radio. NER is headquartered in Washington, D. C. This letter expresses my deep appreciation for the cordiality of Mr. Meeker and your staff.

It is my understanding that legislation to extend the current Educational Television Facilities Act is expected to include educational radio for the first time. If so, the inclusion will be especially welcome to the plains states because support for educational radio is badly needed. Up to this time, educational radio interests have been rather quiet for fear of jeopardizing the development of its more flamboyant brother, educational television. Now it is desired to call the attention of Congress to the older medium and to seek support for it.

In mid-March it is expected that the results of a nationwide survey of existing educational radio facilities will be provided for you. If the voice of educational radio can be heard in the Senate Commerce Committee hearings through presentation of the survey data, the desirability of including educational radio in the language of the ETV Facilities bill will surely be clear.

I trust that the information left for you with Mr. Meeker will help to acquaint you in detail with background details of educational radio. The forthcoming results of the survey will contemporize the background. It is even to be hoped that with such information and your existing, thorough acquaintanceship with North Dakota's educational needs, that you could become an advocate of a vital medium, educational radio, which has been too long neglected.

Please convey my special appreciation to Mr. Meeker for his courtesy and his time. He helped to make my visit to Washington a pleasant and memorable experience.

Dear Mr. Curry:

Just a note to acknowledge and thank you for your letter of February 18 with further reference to our visit last week concerning the Educational Television Facilities Act.

Mr. Curry, I appreciated the opportunity to visit with you and I really got a lot out of it. As I indicated to you then, I have had no complaints over the operation of educational television and at this time I see no reason why I will not be able to support this legislation. As you can well imagine, though, it is very difficult to give a firm commitment until the Senate Commerce Committee has held its hearings and reported the bill to the Senate. No one will know until then just what the final provisions of this Act will be.

I am sure that the Senate Commerce Committee will hold adequate hearings on this legislation and that those representing educational radio will be given ample opportunity to be heard.

Dear Sir:

It was a privilege to visit with you in your Washington office last Tuesday afternoon, February 14th. The conversation with you was enjoyable, as always, and I appreciated your willingness to hear my observations about including educational radio in the language of the forthcoming legislation extending the Educational Television Facilities Act.

It was particularly encouraging to learn that you have heard no complaints about the existing ETV legislation. It is to be hoped that such conditions will encourage your supporting extension of the act in a fashion which will include educational radio.

By mid-March, it is expected that you will receive the results of a nationwide survey of existing educational radio facilities. If the voice of educational radio can be heard in the Senate Commerce Committee hearings through presentation of the survey data, the desirability of including educational radio in the language of the ETV Facilities bill will surely be clear.

Although the information packet which I left with you was a bit bulky, may I call your attention, in particular, to the "NER Reporter" and some of its substance which deals with last November's Wingspread Conference on Educational Radio at Milwaukee. The articles in the "NER Reporter" may serve to indicate the widespread concern for educational radio's development. It is my hope that you will be able to discern the need for new and more extensive educational radio facilities nationally and in our own state of North Dakota. It is also my hope that you can see fit to assure a hearing for educational radio when the legislation is taken up by the Senate Commerce Committee. I even hope that you will be willing to be an active supporter of educational radio, both now and in the future.

Best wishes to you, and thank you and Mr. Sylvester for your courtesy to me.

Dear Sir:

While I was in Washington this past week, I visited your office and met your assistant, Mr. James Schultz. My visit was occasioned by my being the representative for National Educational Radio Region IV, comprising Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, and Wyoming.

It is my understanding that forthcoming legislation to extend the Educational Television Facilities Act will include educational radio for the first time. If so, it will be particularly welcome because educational radio has withheld vigorous pursuance of its needs for support in order to avoid jeopardizing the firm establishment of educational television. Now that ETV's position appears to be sound, it is believed that now is a good time to provide similar support for educational radio.

Educational radio's economy, flexibility, pervasiveness, and ease of utilization by local citizens seems to make it susceptible to strengthening and diversifying with very little additional support which could be incorporated into the pending ETV Facilities legislation. To provide support for educational radio would enable it to serve each state in ways which its more glamorous brother, ETV, can hardly offer economically.

A survey is currently providing data, which when synthesized, is expected to show the existing nature and status of educational radio throughout the country. The information should become available to you in mid-March. It is hoped that in forthcoming Senate Commerce Committee hearings that the voice of educational radio can be heard in support of its case for inclusion in the pending ETV Facilities legislation. It is also hoped t hat our Senators and Congressmen from the Prairie states will see the value in supporting the development of educational radio.

Mr. Schultz was most courteous and generous with his time in meeting with me last Wednesday. I deeply appreciated his reception and wish to express my good wishes to him, and to you.

Sincerely yours,

Myron M. Curry, Director

Dear Sir:

On Wednesday, February 15, it was my privilege to visit your office where I talked to Mr. Donald Olsen, your Administrative Assistant. Very likely, by now he has brought the purpose of my call to your attention.

My visit stemmed from my current repponsibility asthe representative for National Educational Radio in its Region IV, comprised of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, and Wyoming.

This letter, then, is to express my appreciation for Mr. Olsen's courtesty, my regret at being unable to meet you, and hope that it will be possible for you to devote some special attention to pending legislation for extension of the Educational Television Facilities Act when it comes before the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of which you are a member.

Within two weeks or so, data from a nationwide survey conducted by National Educational Radio, will be forwarded to you. The survey results which I have seen to date show clearly a strong case for including Educational Radio in the Educational TV Facilities Act. I am confident that if Educational Radio receives opportunity to present its case in legislative hearings that you and your associates will agree as to the value of fostering the development of radio as a vital educational tool along with television. I even express the hope that you would see fit to support vigorously the inclusion of educational radio in the ETV Facilities Act.

Please let me express my deep appreciation for Mr. Olsen's courtesy. Wherever I went on Capitol Hill, the reception was always friendly and receptive, and your office staff was no exception.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Myron M. Curry, Director

The Honorable William Proxmire
Senate of the United States

Washington, D. C. 20510

Dear Sir:

Whether you would remember Mike Curry from a passing acquaintanceship of more than twelve years ago I was unsure, but I took the chance and visited your office last Tuesday, February 14, 1967. Your secretary was very gracious to take a message. I regretted being unable to see you. I was in Washington on educational radio business and thought you might be interested in it as well as a greeting out of the past.

There has been an indication that the language of the administration's version of the Educational Television Facilities Act, which is nearing expiration or renewal, will probably include educational radio along with television. If this were so, the medium whose little brother so quickly overshadowed it would get a much needed boost. Educational radio has been quiet, I suppose, so as to avoid jeopardizing educational television. Apparently it's time to speak up.

In mid-March, the results of a nationwide survey of educational radio stations will become available. I've seen data from 125 questionnaires. A very clear picture of the variety of stations, operating conditions, staffing, and achievements is appearing. The final report should provide accurate information for evaluating the status and needs of educational radio today. Would you like to have a copy? Unless you say no, one will be sent to you.

If educational radio can at least be heard when the Senate Commerce Committee takes up the ETV Facilities legislation, it will be all that could be asked. If it finds advocates as well as the opportunity to be heard, educational radio everywhere could develop new life. At any event, this letter may serve to call your attention to the desirability of including radio in the forthcoming ETV Facilities legislation.

Best wishes to you.

Sincerely yours,

Myron M. Curry, Director
